

A tea to meet Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels and Miss Joliffe of San Francisco, was given by Mrs. Graham at her home, Holani Pa, Saturday afternoon. Among those present were Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, Mrs. E. Suhr, Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. George Herbert, Mrs. Noonan, Mrs. Tenney, Mrs. von Holt, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Draper, Mrs. H. H. Renjes, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. W. Pauahi Judd, Mary W. Carter, Sarah M. Carter, Miss Walker, Miss MacDonald and others.

The Mexican minister and Mrs. Romero gave an elegant dinner in Washington, on the night of February 10th, in honor of Mrs. McKee. The other guests were Justice and Mrs. Brown, the Hawaiian minister and Mrs. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foster, Mr. de Weckherlin, Mrs. Sartoris, Mrs. L. B. Webb, Minister Carbo and Senator Jones of Nevada. The table was decked with American beauty and meteor roses, which filled the tall vases of the epergne, and with the elegant appointments made a beautiful picture.

Miss Cornwell gave an eleven-course pink dinner at her home King street, Thursday evening, at which were present Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. Gunn, George C. Potter and John S. Walker. The candles on the candelabra were set each amidst carnations, all being uniformly in pink. The remainder of the decorations and the service were likewise in pink.

The Pacific Tennis Club gave a special ladies' day at their courts on Union Square Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. H. W. Howard presided at the refreshment table. Among those present were: Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. Draper, Mrs. Focke, Mrs. Loebenstein, the Misses Atkinson, the Misses Hart, Misses McGrew, Madeline Hartwell, Moulder and McDonald.

Hawaiian Minister and Mrs. Hatch were among the guests present at an afternoon in the Corcoran House, given by Senator and Mrs. Brice in Washington, recently to hear the fine violinist, Mr. Emile Sauret.

Mrs. Theodore Richards will give a tea and reception to Mrs. Richards at her home, Kamehameha, this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels and Miss Joliffe have been enjoying the bathing at Hanalei.

Mrs. C. L. Wight returned on the Kinau Tuesday from a short trip to the volcano.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney M. Ballou are back from a fortnight's trip to the Garden Isle.

President Paul Krueger of Transvaal receives salary of $40,000 a year. His way of life, however, is distinctly plebeian. A story is told of some fashionable ladies who called to leave their cards with the President's wife. They discovered the distinguished lady standing on the doorstep with a half-devoured orange between her lips. One arm was immediately placed alimbo, the orange carefully balanced, while the free hand was stretched out for the cards. This is what might pass as true Jeffersonian simplicity in social circles.

A Tribute from England.

The London correspondent of the New South Wales Daily Telegraph, in a recent letter under the heading of "Music and Art Notes," has the following, which will be of interest to Mrs. Turner's many friends in Honolulu: "Mrs. Chas. Turner (Miss Annis Montague) would be a big success here, few being equal to her at the present time, and few being as fine an artiste. Most of the big singers have had their day, and their voices are not as near as good as one expects. Poor old Charlie Turner was head and shoulders above the majority of tenors either in opera or concert that I have heard yet. Other Australians here (in London) are of the same opinion, and I have heard a lot of singers who are in constant engagement and get big salaries, but not one ever had, or will have, such a good voice as poor Turner."

Some Valuable Hawaiian Stamps Found.

Relics of Early Missionary Days—Five Specimens for $1000—Searching for More.

A rich find of old postage stamps was recently made by Stephen C. Luce of Vineyard Haven. The stamps are printed in blue ink on a thin paper and are what is known as the Hawaiian missionary stamps. They were used for postage with the United States in the early fifties, and but comparatively few were issued, hence their rarity. Mr. Luce's father, Captain Ellsworth Luce, a whaling captain, was at Honolulu about that time, and was more or less intimate with Father Damon, a New York missionary, whom many of the old whalers from southeastern Massachusetts well remember. Mrs. Luce, who still lives, retained the letters received from her husband at that time and until recently did not realize their value to postage stamp collectors. There are five specimens, all different dies, and have a market value of nearly a thousand dollars. They have been examined by several prominent philatelists, who pronounce them a beautiful lot. They reveal some points in regard to this kind of stamps which have long since been disputed by Philatelic worshippers. Mr. Ayer of Bangor, who possesses one of the most valuable collections in this country, purchased through a Boston agency one specimen of those found by Mr. Luce, but the other four he still retains. They are on the original envelopes, being fastened with sealing wax, and plainly show the postmarks of the Honolulu and San Francisco offices.

All the old Vineyard whalers who were at the Sandwich Islands at that time, are going over their old papers and through their trunks, attics and chests hoary with age, in quest of Hawaiian missionary stamps, but it is needless to say none are found. They find a number of letters which were forwarded from the islands by ships but not through the post office, consequently there are no stamps on them.

The entire Vineyard has recently been canvassed. While some good stamps were picked up, none of these rarities were found. Some Vineyard Haven gentlemen, who had collections when they were boys, had some of these stamps, but they were destroyed in the conflagration there 12 years ago, at which time much old correspondence was burned, and no doubt some stamps of this variety were destroyed, which makes them still harder to get. A find of more than 20 of these stamps was made in California two weeks ago, and were promptly disposed of at good prices, but finds like these have a tendency to greatly multiply the price and bring them within range of the average collector.—Republican Standard, New Bedford, Mass.

DEATH OF REV. E. N. PIRES.

His Daughter Teaching Here—An Ardent Worker.

Tidings came by the S. S. Monowai of the death of Rev. E. N. Pires of Jacksonville, Ill., father of Miss Laura Pires, teacher of the Portuguese kindergarten. Rev. Mr. Pires will be remembered by many here, who made his acquaintance at the time of the inauguration of the Portuguese Mission—October, 1890.

He showed himself then a preacher of solid worth, sound in the faith of the Gospel, tactful in the presentation of Scripture truth, faithful and earnest in his efforts to bring to his countrymen the glad tidings of a Divine Redeemer, and to guide them lovingly and directly to the Saviour. His brief stay at the islands was the occasion of wide interest in Evangelical Christianity.

He returned to his church in Jacksonville much invigorated by his brief mission, and has always kept up a deep interest in the progress of the work at Honolulu and Hilo.

His church recently sent $50 as a contribution to the new church on Miller street, for which Architect Ripley is now preparing a plan. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia, resulting in heart failure. The Sunday School at their session yesterday afternoon, voted the accompanying resolutions:

Intelligence having come to us of the death, on the 3d inst., of the Rev. Mr. Pires, of Jacksonville, Ill., the Portuguese Mission and Sabbath School of Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, desire to make the following minute on their official records:

We would express, first, our recognition of the fact that Mr. Pires was one of the founders of our Mission; second, our appreciation of his continued and ever-increasing interest in our welfare, even to the time of his death; third, our sorrow for the death of a helpful friend; fourth, our sympathy to his church and society, and especially to his widow and children for the irreparable loss they have sustained.

In making our heartfelt acknowledgments as above we would also say, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord," and "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."

A BROAD-MINDED DOCTOR

Relates Some Experiences in His Own Practice.

Believes in Recommending Any Medicine That He Thinks Will Cure His Patients.—Thinks Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a Great Discovery.

"AKRON, PA., April 24th, '96.

Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.:

GENTLEMEN:—While it is entirely contrary to the custom of the medical profession to endorse or recommend any of the so-called proprietary preparations, I shall, nevertheless, give you an account of some of my wonderful experiences with your preparation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. The fact is well known that medical practitioners do not as a rule, recognize much less use preparations of this kind, consequently the body of them have no definite knowledge of their virtue or lack of it, but soundly condemn them all without a trial. Such a course is manifestly absurd and unjust, and I, for one, propose to give my patients the best treatment known to me, for the particular disease with which they are suffering, no matter what it is, where or how obtained. I was first brought to prescribe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills about two years ago, after having seen some remarkable results from their use. Reuben Hoover, now of Reading, Pa., was a prominent contractor and builder. While superintending the work of erecting a large building during cold weather he contracted what was thought to be sciatica, he having first noticed it one morning in not being able to rise from his bed. After the usual treatment for this disease he failed to improve, but on the contrary grew rapidly worse, the case developing into hemiplegia, or partial paralysis of the entire right side of the body. Electricity, tonics and massage, etc., were given a trial, but nothing gave any benefit and the paralysis continued. In despair he was compelled to hear his physician announce that his case was hopeless. About this time his wife noticed one of your advertisements and concluded to try your Pink Pills.

"He had given up hope and it required a great deal of begging on the part of his wife to persuade him to take them regularly.

"He, however, did as she desired, and it appearances indicate health in this man, one would think he was better than before his paralysis.

"Why," said he, "I began to improve in two days, and in four or five weeks I was entirely well and at work."

"Having seen these results I concluded that such a remedy is surely worth a trial at the hands of any physician, and consequently when a short time later I was called upon to treat a lady suffering with palpitation of the heart and nervous prostration, after the usual remedies failed to relieve, I ordered Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The result was simply astonishing. Her attacks became less frequent and also less in severity, until by their use for a period of only two months, she was the picture of health, rosy-cheeked and bright-eyed, as ever, and she has continued so until today, more than one year since she took any medicine. I have found these pills a specific for chorea, or as more commonly known, St. Vitus' dance, as beneficial results have in all cases marked their use. As a spring tonic for any one, who, from overwork or nervous strain during a long winter has become pale and languid, the Pink Pills will do wonders in brightening the countenance and in buoying the spirits, bringing roses to the pallid lips and renewing the fountain of youth.

Yours respectfully,
J. D. ALBRIGHT, M.D.
